

Oportunidades de Emprego

Universidade do Minho
Departamento de Engenharia Têxtil

Engenheiro Têxtil

BluWin limited

Perfil pretendido

Join us in our mission to transform the fashion industry for the better. In this pivotal role, you will conduct audits, verify compliance with sustainability standards, and help our clients reduce their environmental footprint. Your expertise will drive meaningful change, contributing to a more sustainable future for fashion.

Responsibilities

- Conducts services (audits/assessments/Verifications/consultancy assigned) in timely and accurately manner on-site or remotely.
- Communicate to Factories the customer's requirements convey the best practices and processes and support the client programs.
- Deliver assigned services at highest technical level as per client requirements
- Identify the potential risks at the mills and communicate with clients and create corrective action plans to avoid any such risks in future from the supply chain partners of clients.
- Respond to questions, support customer interactions, and resolve customer concerns on Eco and chemical compliance issues in timely and accurately manner.
- Prepare the assigned service report, corrective action plans report and record customer activities.

Número de vagas: 2 País: Portugal Distrito: Porto

Condições oferecidas: Interested candidates should submit their resume (in English), along with a cover letter detailing their relevant experience, earliest start date, salary expectations and any professional certifications, to careers@bluwin.net

Contacto: careers@bluwin.net

Requirements:

- Degree (Textiles, Chemical Engineering, Environmental Science)
- Minimum 5 years of work experience in various TEXTILE wet Processing operations: Dyeing, Printing and Textile finishing operations including process improvements, optimization and troubleshooting in the production.
- No travel restriction nationally and internationally (up to 70-75% of the working time)
- Fluent in English and local language, with strong written and communication skills required
- Good at communication and reporting skills
- Working knowledge of Microsoft Office products.

A Plus for this position is being :

Accredited Higg FEM Verifier

Approved ZDHC Trainer

About BluWin: oBluWin is a global leader in environmental consulting, specializing in delivering innovative solutions for a climate-positive future.